About Art Omi:

Omi International Arts Center, located in Columbia County, New York, is a not-for-profit organization that provides residency programs for international visual artists, writers, musicians and dancers, as well as the site for The Fields Sculpture Park, a year round public exhibition space for contemporary sculpture. In 2011, Omi International Arts Center celebrates its 20th Anniversary.

The Fields Sculpture Park public grounds for viewing contemporary and modern sculpture in a natural environment, as well as an indoor gallery and café. Stroll, bike or ski through rolling fields, wooded knolls and wetlands on cleared paths. Seasonal celebrations and cultural discussions at The Fields are free and open to all, everyday dawn to dusk.

International Residency Program for international visual artists, writers, translators, musicians, composers, choreographers and dancers.

- Art Omi International Artists Residency
- Ledig House International Writers Residency
- Music Omi International Musicians Residency
- Dance Omi International Dance Collective

Architecture Omi, which explores the intersection of art and architecture in a laboratory style setting.

Education Omi Workshops grounded in the practices of contemporary art year round: on Saturdays, through Camp Omi each summer, and in regular school group programs for children and teens.
